conducting the discovery necessary to proceed to trial on the current trial date. Additionally, plaintiff Diaz has been ill with bronchitis since mid-February 2023.

- 5. Defendants served discovery requests on November 16, 2022 and responses were just recently produced by Plaintiff on April 7, 2023.
- 6. The parties agree that continuing the trial date will allow the parties a greater opportunity to fully investigate the alleged injuries and damages alleged by Plaintiff. This additional time will also provide the parties with a greater opportunity to resolve this matter through alternative dispute resolution rather than a costly and time consuming trial.
  - 7. The parties agree that a continuance will not prejudice either party.
- 8. The parties also agree that continuing the trial date will allow for additional time with which to present the court with potentially dispositive motions that could serve to narrow the issues in dispute at trial.
- 9. The parties agree that the delay in discovery and the need for additional depositions and expert investigations constitutes good cause for continuing the current trial date.

Respectfully submitted,
